(1) The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1.1) as $t \rightarrow \infty$. It is shown that the solutions of the system (1.1) are bounded and tend to zero as $t \rightarrow \infty$. The asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1.1) is studied in the case when the matrix A is not invertible. It is shown that the solutions of the system (1.1) are bounded and tend to zero as $t \rightarrow \infty$.

Angeles City mired in P484-M debt

By [Name] in [Location]

ANGELES CITY, PHILIPPINES—The city of Angeles is mired in a massive debt of P484 million, a report from the Department of Budget and Finance says. The report, which was released last week, shows that the city has accumulated a huge debt over the years, primarily due to the construction of the new city hall and other infrastructure projects. The debt is spread across various categories, including capital expenditures, operating expenses, and interest payments. The report also highlights the city's financial mismanagement and the need for a comprehensive financial audit.

The report states that the city's debt has reached a critical level, threatening its ability to meet its financial obligations. It also notes that the city's revenue is insufficient to cover its expenses, leading to a growing deficit. The report calls for immediate action to address the debt crisis, including the implementation of cost-cutting measures and the seeking of external financing. It also emphasizes the need for transparency in the city's financial operations and the establishment of a strong financial management system.

The report also mentions that the city's debt is a result of several factors, including the lack of a clear financial strategy, the absence of a budgeting system, and the failure to maintain accurate financial records. It suggests that the city should adopt a more disciplined approach to its financial management, including the preparation of a realistic budget and the regular monitoring of its financial performance. The report also recommends that the city should seek the assistance of external experts to help it develop a sustainable financial plan.

Teachers seek probe of CHED call center lab

By Benito A. Depina

MANILA, Sept. 23 (AP) — A group of teachers and education workers is demanding an investigation into the operations of a call center laboratory established by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) in Manila. They claim the lab is being used for unethical purposes and is a waste of public funds.

The teachers' union, the Philippine Association of Teachers' Unions (PATU), filed a petition with the CHED Office of the President. They allege that the call center lab is being used to train students in a way that is not aligned with the standards of higher education. They also claim that the lab is a waste of public funds and that the students are being exploited.

The CHED Office of the President has agreed to investigate the allegations. The teachers' union is also planning to hold a protest in front of the CHED Office of the President. They are demanding that the CHED Office of the President take immediate action to shut down the call center lab and to investigate the teachers' allegations.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or goal. This involves understanding the current situation and what needs to be achieved.

2. Next, it's important to gather information. This can include research, consultation with experts, and data collection.

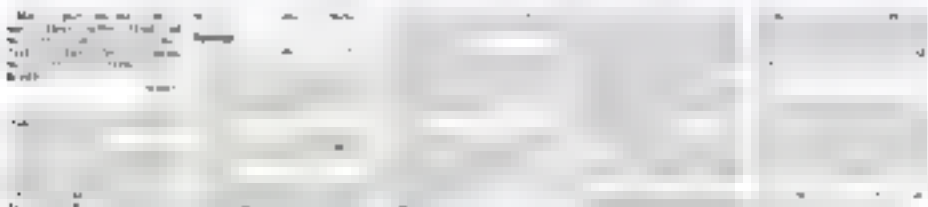

3. Once you have gathered information, you should analyze it. This means looking for patterns, trends, and potential solutions.

4. After analysis, you should develop a plan. This involves deciding on the best course of action and setting out the steps to be taken.

5. The final step is to implement the plan. This means putting the plan into action and monitoring progress.
